Overview

A folding chair doesn't have to feel like one. The MeshOne Folding Chair uses breathable elastomeric mesh that conforms to the person sitting in it, helping minimize pressure points while allowing air to circulate through the seat and back. That added comfort matters when a worship service, class, meeting, or special event keeps people seated for a while.

Despite its strength, MeshOne remains lightweight and easy to handle when it's time to reconfigure the room. A built-in ganging system connects chairs into neat, stable rows, while durable Ripstop mesh resists tears, stains, and abrasions through frequent use.
